Rardin Suggests State Wide Mosquito Control

Establishment of a state-wide bureau to more effectively carry out control of mosquitoes and sandflies in Florida, was proposed this week by County Commission Chairman Paul Rardin.

Rardin made his proposal Monday at the regular meeting of the County Commission and his plan was quickly adopted by the board. The group voted to immediately get the plan underway with the hope that the bureau could be established by the 1953 legislative session.

Chairman Rardin said that several state wide bureaus such as fire control and forestry service are already organized and are carrying out an effective plan of coordinating their activities on a state-wide basis.

More effective, he said, would be a Florida mosquito control unit that could coordinate its activities throughout the state instead of spotty control that is now being carried out by only a few counties who finance mosquito control units.

Palm Beach County is one of those in South Florida that has a county mosquito control unit.

Said Rardin, the county group can control the pests within their area, but its mosquitoes from outside uncontrolled areas that are causing the trouble here.

With state wide control, he said, the bureau would be most effective and could probably share in federal money that is set aside for this type of work.

"We spend a million dollars a year in Florida to attract tourists," Mr. Rardin told his colleagues, as he pointed out the undesirable reaction to this type of advertising when tourists arrive in summer and are met with hordes of mosquitoes, such as have invaded many portions of the State this year.

Mr. Rardin said the State spends millions of dollars for research and experimental work in other lines of endeavor to improve conditions in Florida, and that it is time now to start thinking about the mosquito and sandfly problem on a Statewide basis.

"I feel that it should be an overall proposition by state and federal government," Rardin said.

His suggestion was backed strongly by Commissioner Lake Lytal who said to gain the best mosquito control, the work must be accomplished on a wide scale.

In addition to backing Rardin's proposal for a state wide bureau the commission also authorized their chairman to present the proposal to the State Association of County Commissioners. Rardin heads the state group as president and he expressed confidence that the idea would meet favorably with the state directors.

Commissioner John Prince said that proposal of a state-wide organization did not by any means deter from the work that is being done by the county unit headed by E. L. Seabrook. Prince said the work of the Palm Beach County unit has been most effective in local control but that much of the

Top Honors Talent Show Go To Snyder, Lindsay, Tues. Nite

Albert Snyder and S. L. Lindsay, guitar and mandolin with mountain singing, with the boom of applause that resounded throughout the Prince Theatre Tuesday night at Malcolm Millar's Talent Scout show, came away with top honors.

Carbed in laugh provoking wardrobe their novel opening brought a mighty screech of laughter and from that point on they had the first prize sewed in a bag and ready to take home. The writer has seldom heard such waves of applause for any act during these talent showings.

"Four Bars of Harmony", a quartette composed of the prize winning F. F. A. top honor winners in all singing events, ran the first prize winners a close second and took the second prize. Charles McCurdy, Dickie Atkins, Melvin Tillis and Bobbie Schroder gave out with some of the sweetest and closest harmony imaginable. They rocked the theatre and were forced to return for an encore.

Adrian Gabaldon shows signs of becoming a very good trumpet player one of these days. He drew fine applause with his three short numbers, which he announced himself.

Laverne Geiger was extraordinary at the piano and offered two finely executed numbers that brought him a large hand of appreciation.

David Cunningham, Jr. rendered the immortal "Trees" in a fine boyish soprano and was well rewarded for his efforts.

Malcolm announced next Tuesday as the Grand Finals when all of the first and second winners during the seven weeks of eliminations, will compete for grand honors and grand prizes offered by merchants of Pahokee.

The theatre was packed to the very doors and the audience was warned that they should come out early next Tuesday night in order to get seats. The stage show will come on at a very early hour on that night. Three out of town judges will judge the applause and their decisions will be final.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

Robert Walker, recently seen on local screens, started his acting career in a Greenwich Village play. He was paid 50 cents a performance. Helen Hayes, now in production with "My Son John", has been an actress for forty years. She started when she was ten years old. Miss Hayes was a Broadway star for many years before being recruited to Hollywood and the films. Like the Barrymores, Miss Hayes can be said to be one of the "first ladies" of the stage. Shades of Valentino, Bob Hope and Heddy Lamarr dance a precise, graceful tango in their latest co-starring comedy, "My Favorite Spy." This I will have to see, for I cannot imagine Hope doing anything precise and graceful any more than I can imagine Crosby riding one of his "hayburners" to victory. Alan Ladd and Elizabeth Scott are teamed for the first time in "Red Mountain." It is said they make an ideal dramatic team. Ladd deserves a lot of credit for he came up the hard way. For a number of years he accepted obscure parts with no billing and without an opportunity to show his real ability before the gods favored him and he was given the starring role in "This Gun For Hire," which none of us will ever forget. This picture made both Ladd and Veronica Lake stars over night. From that time on Ladd has been a sure thing at the box offices over the Nation. Ladd is a quiet, unassuming man and the last one anyone would pick for a vicious gunman. He is a devoted family man and church worker, which proves the fact that all villains are not heels. See you at the movies—Mal.

Miss Betty Speer To Wed Ernest Pope Boland Of Pahokee

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lawson Speer of Pahokee announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Betty Floreide Speer, to Ernest Pope Boland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Raymond Boland, also of Pahokee. The wedding is being planned to take place at the First Baptist Church in Pahokee the latter part of October.

Miss Speer, a graduate of Pahokee High School, received a BS degree in chemistry from Florida State University, Tallahassee, where she was a member of the Gamma Sigma Epsilon honorary chemistry fraternity and the Phi Kappa Phi honorary scholastic fraternity in medical technology. While in Tallahassee she was active in Baptist Student Union work and was elected State vice president of BSU. She worked on her master's degree in chemistry at the University of Florida and was associated with the Charity Hospital in New Orleans, La., during her internship. For the past two years she has been employed as laboratory technician at the General Hospital in Athens, Ga.

Mr. Boland, also a graduate of Pahokee High School, served in the Army for three years in the South Pacific area. He received a BS degree in entomology from the University of Georgia, Athens, where he was a member of the Scabbard and Blade honorary military fraternity and the Beta Theta Pi social fraternity. At the time of his graduation from the University of Georgia he received a reserve commission as second lieutenant in the Army and while in Athens was active in Boy Scout work in that community. At present he is employed as assistant county agriculture agent of Colquitt County with headquarters in Moultrie, Ga.

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

God, Soul, is immutably just and merciful and a correct understanding of Him blesses man with spiritual beauty and harmony. This will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "SOUL" to be read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday.

The Golden Text is from one of the Psalms of David: "Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. . . . Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths" (Ps. 25: 1, 4).

Citations from the Bible include the following from Romans (12:

9): "Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil, cleave to that which is good."

This thought is further developed in correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy which include: "The good you do and embody gives you the only power obtainable" (p. 192).

"Unselfish ambition, noble life-motives, and purity, — these constituents of thought, mingling, constitute individually and collectively true happiness, strength, and permanence." (p. 58).

CHLORDANE + FERTILIZER

Farmers who have the "grow-how" credit much of their success to the right combination of chlordane and fertilizers. For they know that chlordane when mixed with fertilizer can control the soil borne insects that literally work from the bottom up to destroy profitable crop acreage. When chlordane is applied properly, it provides your crop with plenty of protection against these ravaging insect pests.

So be sure your insecticide contains chlordane, the all around insect toxicant.

For further information, see your local dealer or consult your county agent for proper recommendation.
